MISSOURI BANK ROBBED

BULLETS AT SWEET SPRINGS
FOR MEN WHO SOUGHT
TO INTERFERE.

DID CLEVER JOB SUNDAY MORNING

After Blowing Open Safe With Dynamite Five Robbers Calmly Walked Away With Between $3,500 and $3,600.

Sweet Springs, Mo., Nov. 23.—The Bank of Sweet Springs was robbed about 3 o'clock Sunday morning, after the safe had been blown open with dynamite. The robbers escaped with between $3,500 and $3,600 in currency.

The bank building, a two-story brick structure, is in Lexington avenue in the old part of the town. M. G. Brown is president and Louis King is cashier of the bank. The capital stock of the bank is $100,000.

About 3 o'clock Sunday morning persons living in the vicinity of the bank were awakened by what they believed was a revolver shot, followed by a second shot a few minutes later.

Jacob Stallings, a grocer, who occupied a room in the immediate neighborhood, raised a window to investigate. No sooner had he put his head out than he was commanded by a man who was standing guard on the sidewalk only a few feet distant, to "get back there if you don't want your head shot off." Two shots followed the command.

John Lindsey, rooming on the opposite side of the street from the bank, was awakened by the shots and raised his window to investigate. He, too, was cautioned against any further effort to investigate, after a shot had been fired at him by the same guard who had fired at Stallings.

Fifteen minutes later three men were seen to leave the bank building and walk east on Lexington avenue. The last seen of them were headed toward the Missouri Pacific depot. The two men, who stood guard near the bank building, had joined the trio in the meantime.

By this time the roomers at Mrs. Wiley's boarding house, accompanied by Stallings, Lindsey and others who had been aroused by the explosions and revolver shots, hastened to the bank building. They found the glass front of the building partly demolished, the lower panel of the front door blown out, the vault door standing open and the door of the safe blown off. The floor on the inside of the vault was strewn with mutilated currency and scattered about was something like $300 in silver which the robbers evidently had considered too heavy to carry.

Entrance to the building was gained through the front door, which opens on the principal street of the town.

The combination of the vault was wrenched off and the lock blown open with nitro-glycerin, after which the bandits attacked the time-lock on the safe.

Following expert yeggmen methods, they used soap and nitro-glycerin. It required three charges to force the safe, which was completely wrecked, one piece being blown through the front window, 400 feet away.

The robbers went about their work systematically, first getting their tools by entering the Missouri Pacific water tank tool house, section house and the Fisher Implement company. Two men were left on guard, one in the front and one in the rear of the bank building, and these held the citizens at bay.

All nearby towns were asked by telephone to be on the lookout for the robbers. The exact sum stolen is not known definitely, but it is between $3,500 and $3,600—all of the currency that was in the safe and was not mutilated by the two explosions incident to the robbery. There was talk of sending for bloodhounds to trace the robbers, but rain began to fall and it was known the dogs could not take the scent, so the idea was abandoned. There is no clew to the robbers. It is believed that they mounted horses they had hidden near the Missouri Pacific depot and rode off to the southwest.

Dr. Porter, of the Dunksburg neighborhood, telephoned the city marshal, Benjamin Crane, here, that several men on horseback rode hurriedly through that section of the country between 5 and 6 o'clock Sunday morning, and it is believed these were the men who robbed the bank.

Persons living nine and one-half miles southwest of Sweet Springs reported later in the day that horsemen passed through that section before 6 o'clock Sunday morning, but how many were in the party was not known.

The Bank of Sweet Springs is insured and will not lose anything by the robbery. The bank has offered a reward of $1,000 for the arrest and conviction of each robber, the Missouri Bankers' association a reward of $500 each, and the company in which the bank was insured offers a reward of $100 for each conviction.

Sweet Springs is in Saline county, on the Lexington branch of the Missouri Pacific railway, about midway between Sedalia and Lexington.

ROYAL HAREM FOR SALE

SULTAN OF MOROCCO FINDS 200 WIVES ARE EXPENSIVE LUXURY.

ABDUL AZIZ DEMANDS $100,000

Women Are Fond of Their Master, So a Dispatch Says, and May Call a Strike If Sold to Muley Hafid.

Madrid, Nov. 23.—It is reported from Fez that the Moroccan imperial harem is about to change hands.

Abdul Aziz bought the 200 fair Circassians, of which it consists, from a French agent of Tangier. These Circassians are women of great beauty and immense value. But they are correspondingly expensive to keep, and the sultan offered them for sale to his brother, Muley Hafid, several weeks ago. His brother is enormously wealthy, and, as his harem consists of only ten wives, it is believed that a bargain will be struck.

The consideration, it is said, is $100,000, thus placing a value of $500 on each of the wives. If the sale is consummated there is danger of a "strike" among the women of the sultan's harem. The Moroccan ruler has always treated his wives with extreme kindness, and they have grown very fond of him. Perhaps no other harem inmates in the world enjoy such privileges and liberties as do those of the sultan's seraglio, and up to the present time none has availed herself of the many opportunities to escape from the country.

It is openly said among them that they will refuse to enter the harem of the sultan's brother, and this threatened mutiny is likely to halt the negotiations, as usually the consent of the inmates is necessary in Morocco before a sale of this kind can be effected.

LETTER SIGNED MRS. GUINNESS

Prosecuting Attorney at La Porte, Ind., Received It Today.

La Porte, Ind., Nov. 23.—Efforts are being made to learn the identity of the person who sent to Attorney Warden today from Michigan City a letter signed "Mrs. Belle Guinness," declaring Mrs. Guinness would be found at the Michigan City address given in the letter. The communication concludes as follows:

"If you attempt to have me arrested I will kill you. Come at 10:30 o'clock. Come alone and call for Mrs. McConnell."

The defense in the trial of Ray Lamphere for the alleged murder of Mrs. Guinness and her three children began today the introduction of the final bits of evidence in behalf of the prisoner. The expectation is that it will rest its case tonight.

BALLOON SAILS 1,150 MILES

Within 43 Miles of Count De La Vaux's Record.

London, Nov. 23.—Word has been received here that the balloon owned by the Daily Graphic, which ascended from this city Wednesday morning in an attempt to reach Siberia and break the long distance record, was compelled to descend in a gale on Thursday night near Novoalexandrovsk, Russia, after having traveled about 1,150 miles.

The best long distance record was made by Count de La Valux, who succeeded in covering 1,193 miles.

WAITING

THE MYSTERY OF BOX CAR

YOUNG WOMAN WHO WAS ARRESTED AT NEVADA IN MALE ATTIRE IDENTIFIED.

HER HOME IS AT BIRTA, ARKANSAS

Box of Clothing Arrived at Nevada, and in It Were Letters and Cards Which Cleared Away Mystery.

The mystery surrounding the young woman who was arrested by the police here in male attire has been solved and the identity of the woman is no longer a matter of speculation, says the Nevada Mail.

The box of clothing expressed from Omaha, Neb., to Carthage, Mo., has been received here, and contained not only an abundance of good wearing apparel, but letters and postal cards which cleared the mystery as to who this young woman is and where she belongs.

Her father is J. A. Goodson, a highly respected citizen of Yell county,

Arkansas, whose postoffice is the small village of Birta.

When confronted with the information, the woman did not deny its correctness, but insisted that her father, her brothers or her sisters should know nothing of her career or her present condition. However, her father will be notified, and no doubt will make arrangements to take charge of her. She insists that she will not go home, and intimated that she will go to extreme lengths if her people learn what she has done.

It is understood that one of her brothers is not attending a college at Memphis, Tenn. The officers believe that she had been in Omaha but a short time and was engaged in the work of a waitress when she met the Greek who came to Nevada with her in a box car.

It may be she desired to leave Omaha in order to get away from the Greek, but he insisted on accompanying her to Carthage. The Greek's name is William Karamanos, and he was arrested today by the state officers and sent to jail.

The case of the young woman is one of the most pathetic the state officers have ever had on their hands, and they have much sympathy for the father, brothers and sisters of the young woman. Why this woman, who is but a girl, should have taken such a step can never be answered; in fact, she can not give the answer herself, and no doubt at this hour she is suffering the pangs of remorse and would rather face death itself than to meet her father.

This Greek is a sharp fellow, wise in worldly ways, and should be prosecuted to the limit of the law. It may be that the girl was afraid to leave him, but whether she was or was not, he ought to be held and the girl given a chance to get away from him, and the officers have decided to see that she is given this chance. The father will no doubt come after her and take her home and shelter her from all danger, and it may be that this wrong step will be a lesson to the girl and serve to make her life a life of a good woman.

A BIG STRIKE HAS ENDED

REMARKABLE UNION CAMPAIGN AGAINST A TRACTION COMPANY.

BEGAN LAST MAY IN CLEVELAND, OHIO

Refused to Grant an Increase in Wage Scale and Strike Was Ordered—Receivers Were Finally Appointed.

Cleveland, Nov. 23.—At a meeting of the union of street railway motormen and conductors here Saturday night it was unanimously voted to call off the strike against the Municipal Traction Co., which was begun last May.

Back of this vote by the strikers is the history of the strike campaign which was one of the most unique in the history of labor unionism.

The Municipal Traction Co. refused to grant an increase in wages and the strike was ordered.

The new company kept the cars running under difficulties. As a last resort the strikers threatened to oust the Municipal by having its franchise repealed by means of a popular vote under the new state initiative and referendum law.

The company continued to fight, however, and won. Then the union men devoted themselves to the proposed referendum vote.

The election was held Oct. 22 and the franchise was defeated. In a few days the railway property was placed in the hands of a receiver.

so will it that God can save him. Whosoever will may come.

"Again, it is not popular. About the weakest character I meet is the one who submits everything to this test. Will this be popular, will this meet the approval of my set, my clique, my crowd? The person who lives to please his set rather than God and the highest demands of his conscience is one who ought to despise himself.

"Blind prejudice is another excuse. Prejudice crucified the Son of God. There are many who think the Gospel of Jesus Christ is something which it is not. The preaching of the cross is to them that perish foolishness. They have a perverted vision. They look at Jesus Christ through the devil's spectacles. If

PRISON BREAK AVERTED

MISSOURI CONVICTS NEARLY COMPLETE TUNNEL PASSAGE TO LIBERTY.

OFFICIALS DISCOUNT THE ATTEMPT

There Is Still Alarm in Jefferson City Over the Possible More Desperate Effort Since This Was Thwarted by Officers.

Jefferson City, Mo., Nov. 23.—A shock was experienced by the penitentiary officials when it was discovered that a tunnel, leading under one of the sentinel towers on the wall surrounding the institution, lacked but about a foot of having penetrated to the street, and a wholesale delivery of convicts, had the inmates of the prison chosen to take advantage of the opportunity, was narrowly averted.

The plan, it is understood, was to make a dash for the tunnel while in procession to the dining room, and there could have been no other result than to give at least temporary liberty to several hundred convicts.

The tunnel had been used as a conduit for the pipes distributing heat, and was abandoned when the new heating plant was installed.

It was in this underground passage the work had been done, and but one more foot remained when the officers gained information of what was going on.

Though there is a disposition on the part of the prison officials to discount the matter, and declare it to be of but little importance, it is known a feeling of alarm existed, and has not yet quieted down, in the fear that something more desperate may be undertaken since this scheme for liberty failed.

It is just three years ago that Vaughan, Ryan, Raymond and Blake made their dash for liberty by blowing out the big wagon gate with nitro-glycerin, shooting to death two of the guards.

Blake was shot to death by one of a pursuing posse and the other three men, who were recaptured in a wagon, were hanged at the same time from the same scaffold.

NOTHING BUT CHEAP THIEF

Man Claiming to Represent Millions of Capital, Arrested for Stealing.

New York, Nov. 23.—Claiming to have the backing of European capitalists to the extent of $200,000,000, according to the police, Joseph Montefiore Meyers, who has spent the last few months in Pittsburgh endeavoring to interest capitalists of that city in various plans requiring large amounts of money, was brought to this city to day charged with the larceny of five bonds, valued at $4,500.

Previous to going to Pittsburgh, where he was arrested Saturday last, Meyers spent three years in this city and managed by means of letters of introduction to meet men and women of prominence in both a social and business way.

THE NEW STANDARD OIL POLICY.

John D. Rockefeller on the witness stand, telling the story of Standard Oil in an open straightforward manner, is a spectacle that twelve months ago few would have prophesied would ever be witnessed. In fact, the detailing of its history in court by an official of the corporation was an event
not to have been expected. — Mr.
Rockefeller's voluntary appearance as a witness for the Standard Oil Co.
in the suit brought by the government for its dissolution is therefore indicative of a pronounced change in the policy of that industrial institution.Up to within a comparatively recent date Standard Oil's consistent attitude has been one of defiance of the government and of the courts.
All efforts to get at the bottom of its business affairs by states and by the federal department of justice have been met with the most vigorous resistance.When its officials were unwillingly dragged into court they employed every artifice suggested by their own and their attorneys' acumen to block the purpose of the proceedings by refusing to give any information whatever of a positive or definite nature. John D. Archbold was even in-ruling to the attorneys for the state of Missouri in its ouster proceedings
when they presumed to question him concerning the corporation's acts in the taking of evidence in New York.
No amount of press criticism and of popular denunciation could, moreover, move the oil combine to a decrease of its position. Even exaggeration and libel and abuse failed to arouse outward resentment or to invite a statement of what it professed to be the facts. While the storm raged against it its officers and directors preserved a steady calm and sphynx-like silence in their quarters at 26 Broadway.Suddenly all has changed. Leading up to the incident in New York City that is now engrossing the attention of the nation were symptoms of a publicity policy during the last twelve months. Mr. Rockefeller startled the country by writing his autobiography for a leading magazine.
Mr. Rockefeller permitted himself to be interviewed about oil matters.
Mr. Rockefeller ventured to express himself on the presidential campaign.
The Standard Oil Co. manifested an inclination to comply with the state laws and commenced to show greater respect for the anti-trust act. One of its officials surrendered himself for trial in Texas. No. 26 Broadway has tried an interest in general affairs.and a disposition to take the public into its confidence on probation. And now its head and captain is on the witness stand by his own request, relating the history of the corporation and laying himself open to a searching examination by the government on cross-examination.What does it mean? It means that Standard Oil is at last cutting its wisdom teeth. A realizing sense that the people of the nation are supreme and that their laws are made to be obeyed is filtering through its calloused hide. John D. and his princely associates have been delegated to tell the truth and try and place the corporation in a more favorable light.
Of course, they will give it a clean bill of health. They will elevate its honesty to even humanitarian heights. It will be pictured as more shamed against than sinning, and as one of the world's chief benefactors.
Will the government be caught napping by its imposing protestations of innocence? That is the real question of the moment, for the outcome of the suit to dissolve the corporation and punish its misdeeds is infinitely more important than the literary contribution now being offered by the combine's publicity bureau.

START THE PLANS RIGHT.

The first meeting to consider plans for Sedalia's Home Coming day will take place next Friday night at the court house. No one should stay away from it, because a good attendance and a manifestation of interest will insure the celebration.We ought to have it for more reasons than one, and certainly we can if we will make of it an unqualified success. Let's all take hold and help, and get that hold at the very start, which is next Friday night.

EXPORTS IN OCTOBER.

Exports of leading domestic staples in October were a little larger than a year ago, but a little less than two years ago in the corresponding month. These staples are breadstuffs, meat and dairy products, live animals, cotton and mineral oil, and the aggregate for ten months, while less than a year ago, is considerably in excess of the amount in each of the three years 1904, 1905 and 1906.Breadstuff exports are larger than in any of the ten months of the previous four years; meat and dairy products are less than in the same part of the last two years; cotton is less than last year, but it is much more than in any of the three years before that; and mineral oil exports run very much beyond those of the same period in any of the previous years.
Exports of corn this year have fallen on heavily; exports of wheat have increased substantially, and there has been a small decrease in the amount of flour that has been shipped abroad.

THE THING THAT IMPRESSES.

It is well to "catch the eye" in an advertisement, but it is better to catch the mind. A woman takes pleasure in looking over a well arranged, artistic and pleasingly varied store advertisement, but she is not moved by it unless it tells her what she wants to know. It is the fact she is after that lingers in her long little intellect until—well, she is not long these days in getting to the store.The new Chinese government has appealed to the world powers to watch it. Isn't that what their longing eyes have been doing for nearly a century now?Not quite yet already is Germany to add a Fourth of July to its calendar.The Changing Missouri.
The flood has been kind to one town. For years Missouri City, in 15 miles east of Kansas City, in Clay county, has been off the river map and the steamboats couldn't get within miles of it because of a change in the channel. But recently the high water began to flow through an old channel and in a few days it had cut so deep and so fast that Missouri City awoke the other morning to find itself on the main channel of the river.
A few hours later the steamer Chester passed the old landing and Missouri City's cup of joy was full.Because of the change of channel the boat line company will now take freight and passengers from Missouri
City.—Kansas City Star."Omar Khayyam" Room.
Literary faddists before this, have "consecrated" rooms to some favorite authors, making such a place a Longfellow or a Dickens room, or a Scott room, with many editions of the particular author and as many relics as is possible to buy. Now there is an Omar Khayyam room in Washington. It belongs to a woman whose home is near that of the Persian minister. The room is patterned after a living room in a Persian home. The walls are covered with rugs and fine draperies and in rustic frames are scrolls containing favorite quotations from "The Rubaiyat." There is an ideal sketch of the poet keeping watch with the lion and the lizard.

AMUSEMENTS

WOOD'S OPERA HOUSE.

"The Devil."

Wood's opera house tonight. The following is from the Chicago Tribune:

What do you think of the devil?

It's a common question here today,
and answered in as many ways as it is possible to imagine. To have been present and to have noted the death like silence during the many scenes and the rapt attention from the beginning of this marvelous and peculiar play, one would have said: "Universal satisfaction." But many have a habit of waking after a night's dream with a bad taste in their mouths and some came away from the performance much in that same "dark brown" manner. "Immodest" was heard frequently and "immoral" quite often, while a few of the more critical of our people declared the play to be the very best ever seen in the Columbian.So much for the theme. Of the actors and actresses only praise is heard—the parts were well and carefully assigned.After hearing Henry Dixey, surrounded with the elegance of paraphernalia at a leading Chicago opera house, buoyed up by the eager thousands before him, given confidence and courage by years of brilliant acting, bearing a reputation of international renown, it is our opinion that he is not greater in the part of Dr.
Watson (the devil) than is Maurice Whish, of lesser pretensions. Mr.
Whish carries his audience with him from his first appearance on the stage until in easy and graceful lines he announces, "And there you are,"
to close the play—satisfied that the world is wicked.Miss Gardner is a fitting companion for this man of mystery—surrounds her character with the endowment of effeminate charms and acts as part of an erring woman perfectly.Some one has said, and wisely, "an act must be didictly immoral to produce a great moral." We must by a bad example show reason for a preference of better things. Many moralists cling to this theory, prove it by instances cited and hall each new work as a godsend to mankind.However bad the ideas given to the audience at the Columbian on Saturday night, the evil influence robbing a home of its most sacred content, a wife and mother, we do not believe a single child upwards of the age of fourteen could misunderstand the deep wrong committed by this woman and man who usurped a home, contradicted the laws of nature and the divine laws of Providence.
While the subtlety of the sleek and polished devil was so apparent that none could fail to grasp the damnability of the underhanded clever intrigue with which he played upon the passions of the principals in the drama. So, withal, we come back to that first statement that however bad, it has been good, and thinking men and women are the better for having seen the play, though it is only a play, after all—powerful and fascinating.

mance of Bertha Kalich in her latest

she will be seen here at Wood's opera house on the evening of Nov. 23,

DR. SHIVELY TO RESIGN

THREE-TIME BASEBALL PRESIDENT HAS TOO MANY POSITIONS

QUIT OKLAHOMA-KANSAS LEAGUE

Action is the Result of His Having Been Elected President President of the National Minor League Clubs.

Joplin, Mo., Nov. 23.—D. M. Shively, the only three-time president in the baseball world, upon his arrival here last night to attend the annual meetings of the Oklahoma-Kansas league and the Western association, announced his resignation as head of the former.

Shively's action was prompted by his recent election as president of the National Association of Minor Leagues, brought about by the bolt of the American association and Eastern league.

Shively last night stated that he thought Pittsburg, Kas., and Muskogee, Okla., would secure the places of Topeka and Wichita.

Nine cities seek to enter the league. They are St. Joseph, Leavenworth, Sedalia, Pittsburg, Coffeyville, Independence, Kas., Tulsa, Muskogee and Fort Smith.

MODEL ONLY LOOKED THE PART.

Was Different When He Came Down from the Pedestal.

The model had sat, with the necessary rests, for three hours in one position, the pose of a splendid senator of Washington, elegant, aristocratic. He had a fine head. He was quite noted for that. He had been model for illustrations of many heroic figures.

But the model with the fine head wore about the rustiest suit of clothes you ever saw. His cuffs were frayed. His collar stayed up with difficulty, it was so old.

When the three hours were up he gave a sigh of relief, for posing is hard work. There is no work harder. The artist drew forth his wad and said him. The model thanked him with a grateful smile.

"He is down and out," said the artist when he had gone. "He hadn't a penny to get his lunch with."

And he looked at the picture he had drawn of him as a splendid senator of Washington with a complacent smile of satisfaction with the fine dignity of it.

An English paper gives an old story a new setting by saying that on one occasion when Justice Warrington was listening to a case in which an Irishman was called as witness, his ignorance was painfully evident as soon as he stepped into the box. A young lawyer, in his cross-examination, tried his best to obtain some information from the witness which might prove helpful, but all to no purpose. Then he asked him if he had read anything in his life. "Yes, sir," was the reply. "Then tell the court what you read." "Well, yer honor," replied Pat, innocently, "I have red hairs on my neck."

The manager of one of the Cleveland burlesque houses tells this one on himself. A few days ago he cut the dire misfortune to cut a finger—or was it a thumb? Anyway, the finger or thumb got pretty sore and blood poisoning or something set in. He had to go to a doctor about it.

"I'll have to perform a slight operation," the doctor told him. "May be it won't be necessary to put you to sleep, though. How about you? Can you stand much pain?"

"Can I stand much pain?" repeated the theatrical man. "Well, I should say I could! Pain's my long suit. I can stand anything. Why, doctor, I'm the manager of a burlesque theater and see 12 shows a week."

WOOD'S OPERA HOUSE TONIGHT SEE THE GREAT AND ONLY ORIGINAL PRODUCTION OF "THE DEVIL."

There are numerous companies playing "The Devil." Henry W. Savage, Harrison Grey Fiske and Belasco each have several companies, and there are many other companies playing "The Devil." When the trust has a good production they immediately organize several cheap companies especially to play one night stands, for which they charge high prices. The company that will play the Sedalia Theatre is one of those cheap organizations. Ft. Madison, Ia., and other cities heard from where the cheap Savage "Devil" Co. played report that the company is a cheap company and do not give satisfaction.

Infidelity. The blindest man is the one who will not see, and the infidel is a man who will not see. The so-called free thinker considers this a mark of superior intelligence, of unshackled mind. He does not realize that he is bound by the traditions of his forefathers. Infidelity has never made one father a better father, one mother a better mother, one son a purer son. Infidelity has never wiped away one tear from the eyes of the sorrowing nor has it brought one word of consolation to the bereaved. "Infidelity has never made one man honest; it has made men dishonest. Infidelity has never made one man pure, but it has made men licentious; it has never saved one drunkard from his cup, not one thief from his stealing, not one libertine from his passion; it has never stooped to lift the girl who was merchandising her virtue for dirty money.

"Hypocrites are another excuse men give. The man who throws away his eternal inheritance because there are hypocrites in the church is a fool. Comparing the meanest, puniest runt in the church with the most moral and upright outside of the church is unfair. The man who hides behind the hypocrite is smaller than the hypocrite. Where there is one hypocrite in the church there are hundreds of scoundrels outside of the church. The man who talks the loudest about the hypocrite is often the biggest hypocrite of any man in his community."

Evangelist Hamilton will give a special address to women tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. At night his subject will be, "The Devil's Prayer." There will be no service tonight.

If Mr. Henry W. Savage sent the telegram to Sedalia announcing that the original and only genuine New York production of "The Devil" will play the Sedalia Theatre Dec. 9, he has made a willful and malicious false statement, and known it.

Henry E. Dixey, who played "The Man on the Box" at Wood's Opera House a season ago, is playing in the Savage New York production of "The Devil." Mr. Dixey will positively not appear in the Sedalia Theatre and it is also a fact that the Fiske and Belasco attractions will not play in the Sedalia Theatre, as it is a Trust house.

THE DRY.
They Prayed. Prayers as applied to a church social may be the cause of splitting a congregation at Rawson, near here. Several weeks ago plans were laid for giving a social to raise funds to apply for the church's debt. One class favored the social while the other did not. The majority ruled and the social was arranged for.

The defeated ones said they would pray for rain so that the social would have to be postponed. They prayed. Almost two inches of rain fell, causing the postponement of the social. The Epworth league was back of the enterprise.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

THE MEETING OF SORORIS

Ladies Carried Out Delightful Program at Library.

The ladies of Sorosis carried out a delightful program at the public library this afternoon, it being known as "Women's Day," with Mrs. E. A. Wood as leader.

The "current events" section was in charge of Mrs. E. B. Farley, those participating being Miss Jessie Blair, Mesdames Charles Van Antwerp, Sallie Potter Sneed, Harry W. Servant, O. M. Barnett and F. H. Brinkerhoff.

The subject of Mrs. Wood's paper was, "What Science and Common Sense Are Doing for the Home," and the effort was one of the most instructive and entertaining ever presented to the ladies of Sorosis.

Mrs. Charles Van Antwerp had a splendid paper on "Home-Making Versus Housekeeping," after which Mrs. W. J. Maitby read an excellent paper, "Some Old-Fashioned Doubts About the New Woman."

"Ideal Women" was the next number on the program, Mrs. D. H. Smith telling of the "commonplace woman," Mrs. J. B. Mockbee of the "artificial," Mrs. W. M. Alspaugh of the "domestic," Mrs. C. C. Evans of the "thinking," Miss Florence Whittier of the "growing" and Miss Jessie Blair of the "living."

The concluding number on the program was an entertaining discussion of "Woman Suffrage," participated in by Mesdames H. B. Cole and S. M. Leshier.

An event that is looked forward to by all lovers of the beautiful is the annual display of art novelties at West's Book Shop. Extensive preparations have been made this year and the display, it is thought, will exceed all former efforts. Another rare treat is the opening, on that day, of Mrs. West's studio. This is the Mecca of all who wish to view the best that is executed by brush and pencil. The opening this year will take place on next Friday and Saturday. Mr. West has a corps of able and efficient clerks who will see to your wants.

TO MAKE ITS APPEARANCE IN BOSTON THE DAY AFTER TOMORROW.

MR. DODDS TO BE MANAGING EDITOR

Editor of the Pittsburg Gazette-Times

He Was Formerly Night Editor of the Pittsburg Gazette-Times—Will Issue Four Editions Daily.

Boston, Nov. 23.—Boston's new newspaper, the Daily Monitor, which will be the official publication of the Christian Science church, will make its appearance this week. The first number is scheduled for Wednesday and it will be largely devoted to Thanksgiving features.

Former Night Editor Dodds, of the Pittsburg Gazette-Times, is the managing editor of Mrs. Eddy's "debrutalized" journal and is making final arrangements for its premiere. All the editors, reporters and mechanics engaged by the Monitor are adherents of the Christian Science church.

The Monitor will issue four editions daily and its promoters hope to attain a national and even international circulation. At the business offices of the publication it is stated that subscriptions and advertising are pouring in from all over the country and the Monitor will start with a large bona fide paid circulation and a considerable volume of advertising.

A rigorous censorship will be exercised by the editorial department over the advertising columns and no publicity announcements of a doubtful or suspicious character will be admitted. As was to be expected, all advertising of a medical nature will be strictly tabooed.

Justified His Name.

On opening a new golf course at Tankerton, Whitstable, Eng., recently Mr. Akers-Douglas related a good story. A golfer at Hale had an irritating experience with a local caddie. He followed so closely, and was so anxious to please by intelligent anticipation, that the player had several narrow escapes of severely disfiguring him. After a tedious and unprofitable round he paid him off, gave him his lunch ticket and threepence for cleaning his clubs, and addressed him: "You know you are not quite perfect as a caddie. There is room for improvement. But as an agent for an accident insurance company you are pretty 'hot stuff.' What is your name?" The caddie, a stolid-looking and hitherto silent youth, moved, like Balaam's ass, by the exigencies of the situation, opened his mouth and replied, "Mustard!"

"I don't know," answered Senator Sorghum. "One trouble about being a reformer is that there are so many different kinds of reform wanted that your audience is necessarily limited."

Is very careful about her churn. She scalds it thoroughly after using, and gives it a sun bath to sweeten it. She knows that if her churn is sour it will taint the butter that is made in it. The stomach is a churn. In the stomach and digestive processes which are almost exactly like the churning of butter. Is it not apparent then that if this stomach-churn is foul it makes foul all which is put into it?

The evil of a foul stomach is not alone the bad taste in the mouth and the foul breath caused by the corruption of the pure current of blood and the dissemination of disease throughout the body. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes the sour and foul stomach sweet. It does for the stomach what the washing and sun bath do for the churn—absolutely removes every tainting or corrupting element. In this way it cures blisters, pimples, eruptions, scrofulous swellings, sores, or open eating ulcers and all humors or diseases arising from bad blood.

If you have bitter, nasty, foul taste in your mouth, coated tongue, foul breath, are weak and easily tired, feel depressed and despondent, have frequent headaches, dizzy attacks, gnawing or distress in stomach, constipated or irregular bowels, sour or bitter risings after eating and poor appetite, these symptoms, or any considerable number of them, indicate that you are suffering from biliousness, torpid or lazy liver with the usual accompanying indigestion, or dyspepsia and their attendant derangements.

It is well known to medical science for the cure of the above symptoms and conditions, as attested by the writings of leading teachers and practitioners of all the several schools of medical practice, have been skillfully and harmoniously combined in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. That this is absolutely true will be readily proven to your satisfaction if you will mail a post card request to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for a free copy of "A Manual of Extracts from the Several Medical Authorities, giving the names of all the ingredients entering into his world-famed medicines and showing what the most eminent medical men of the age say of them."

Monument to Poe.

What has the world to do now with the weaknesses of a man who is dead? Why should it heap scorn on his memory because of his personal peculiarities? Poe the living man was unfortunate, buffeted by cruel circumstances outside himself and by the perversities of a nature he could not control and other people could not understand. But he was and is to-day the finest poetic genius the country has produced. As a writer of the short story he founded a school which the best of the French, the German and the Slav short-story writers have been proud to follow. It is because of his matchless, haunting mélodies of verse and the rich world of his imagination revealed to us in his short stories that Poe's memory should be honored. His frailties as a man perished with him; there is no need to keep them in memory. But that imperishable part of him which we call genius deserves its fame. Monuments are not raised to the flawless alone. If they were there might be fewer, even in proud Richmond, to lift the names of favored ones upward to the sky. — Washington Post.

Chickens Saved from Snake.

An old hen with a large family of small chickens was recently given an empty barrel turned down on its side, for a coop, says a correspondent for the Lewiston (Me.) Journal. One day recently the hen gave the signal of distress used by all good grangiers and the barrel was quickly surrounded by the fighting members of the household.

A large snake was found in the barrel and quickly lynched. Several bunches were noticed on the reptile's body, and he was ripped up the belly with a pair of shears and seven chickens were found gasping for breath. They are all alive.

RIDGELY GETS $80,000

Former Comptroller Cleans Up Fortune in Kansas City.

Washington, Nov. 23.—According to a story which has reached Washington, William Barrett Ridgely, former comptroller of the currency, and until very recently president of the reorganized National Bank of Commerce of Kansas City, Mo., cleaned up a neat fortune through his connection of a few months with that institution.

Although he may have cause for regret at having to retire from the presidency of the institution, yet he may find save for wounded pride in the $80,000 he is said to have drawn out as his portion of the restored prosperity that came to the bank following its reorganization.

Mr. Ridgely is expected in Chicago in a few days, and it is possible he may make some financial connection there.

"STILLS" AS TROPHIES

Revenue Officer Makes Good Haul in Stone County.

Springfield, Mo., Nov. 23.—Two stills with a combined capacity of more than 100 gallons, are trophies earned by United States Deputy Revenue Collector "Jem" Case in a record run which the officer made on Friday night into the moonshine country to the south of Springfield in a secluded and almost inaccessible part of Stone county.

The stills which were taken by the officer were located in the rugged Indian creek bluffs, about two miles from the Arkansas border, in a region which is sparsely settled by small farmers and hunters.

They were concealed in a cave in the rocks, which during the summer months had been hidden by a rank growth of vines, weeds and underbrush, and which had been exposed to view by the falling of the frost killed foliage.

Is It Thanksgiving Time For You?

The First Mill Near Lee's Summit Was Built by Noah Hunt.

Lee's Summit, Mo., Nov. 23.—Noah Hunt, pioneer settler and miller of Lone Jack, Mo., died at his home in Lone Jack yesterday at the age of 79 years.

Mr. Hunt came to Missouri from North Carolina in 1840 and built the first mill in this part of the country for the grinding of corn and the carding of wool. It was one of the old fashioned treadmills. After the war he erected a steam roller flouring mill, which was in operation until recent years, when it was transferred to Pleasant Hill, Mo. It is now operated by three of his sons.

"STARS" OF THE DIAMOND

WHAT THEY ARE DOING DURING
THE SIX MONTH OF NO
BALL PLAYING.

MIKE DONLIN A VAUDEVILLE STAR

He and His Wife, Mabel Hite, Are at the Colonial Theater in New York—Mathewson is Selling Life Insurance.

New York, Nov. 23.—Where are the stars of the baseball firmament during the dark and dreary days of winter? Are they in total eclipse, merely bidding their time until spring that shall bring them forth from their hiding places? Not on your tintype, gentle reader.

If you should pass the Colonial Theater at any time during the afternoon or evening, keeping your peepers peeled, you would observe an illuminated announcement of the vaudeville stunt of Mabel Hite and Mike Donlin. Of course, every fan knows Mike, and probably all of them are aware that the winsome stage beauty who answers to the name of Mabel Hite is Mike's better half. On the stage, Mabel is admittedly the "better half" of the act, although Michael is a mere bum actor, at that. Mike knows that his wife has beat to a frazzle when it comes to getting a hand from the gallery gods, and it was his becoming modesty that led the management to place Mabel's name first on the bills. Mike and Mabel—beg pardon, Mabel and Mike—drag down a good wad of the long green every ghost day and everything is lovely and prosperous in the Donlin household. The wolf won't hang around Mike's flat this winter.

Christy Mathewson is another mighty giant who doesn't allow any financial increment to get away from him just because there isn't anything doing at the diamond-polishing trade. Christy has good lungs, and that may be the reason for his becoming life insurance agent. He has an office in Vesey street, with a roll-top desk, a stenographer, an office boy, numerous push buttons and other modern inconveniences. In many publications you will observe the advertisement of "Mat"—a neat card reading something like this: "At your service—Christy Mathewson, representing the Gibraltar Life Insurance Company."

Many other ball players of national reputation are engaged in some business, profession or trade during the winter. "Jawn" McGraw, manager of the Giants, runs a billiard parlor; Johnny Kling, the Cub's catcher, is also an enthusiast of the cue and ivory balls, and controls several such parlors. Roger Bresnahan is a detective in Toledo.

Pitcher Joe McGinnity has an iron foundry in Oklahoma, and when he isn't playing ball he devotes his time to managing his business. Luther Taylor also a slab artist on the payroll of John T. Brush, runs a general store in his home town and he is by far the most popular citizen of the place. Stony McGlynn, the St. Louis (Cardinal) pitcher, spends his "idle moments" as an officer of the peace at York, Pa. Addie Joss, the Cleveland pitcher, is a sporting writer. Harry White, a White Sox twirler, studied dentistry at Georgetown university, and when he isn't pulling teams out of a hole he's extracting teeth. He is not alone in this, for Mike Powers, the Philadelphia (Athletic) catcher, is also a dentist.

Fred Clarke manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, owns a ranch in Kansas. Clarke Griffith, one time manager of the Highlanders, also has a ranch in Montana. But of all the occupations in which the ball players engage, the oddest is that of Roy Thomas, the Buccaneers' center fielder. While traveling around the circuit, and in winter as well, he solicits orders for a wholesale undertaking establishment. Honus Wagner, admittedly the greatest batter of the age, owns a farm and passes much of his time thereon and makes it pay well too.

Fred Tenney, the first baseman of the Giants, is an artist as well as an athlete. He spends most of his leisure hours in water color studies. Some of his pictures are not only clever, but show that he has made a thorough study of art. "Of course, I know that the profession of ball playing has not been looked upon as one of the higher professions," said Tenney the other day. "Many of our professions did not rank very high at the start. Therefore, I feel that we can do much more by trying to uplift the game while we are a part of it than by deserting and allowing it to fall into decay. I regard it as quite an honor to be among the topnotchers in any profession that is honorable, and nothing pleases me more than to know that I am generally considered among those 200 ball players who rank as first class."

Leon Ames, one of the Giants' famous pitchers, is a clever caricaturist and has often been asked to allow his drawings to be published, but he is timid.

SHE CALLED HIM "PAPA"

Threw Arms Around His Neck and Diamond Missing.

San Antonio, Texas, Nov. 23.—As Thomas L. Ryan, a traveling salesman of Kansas City, got off a train at the Sunset depot in this city a pretty girl rushed up to him, threw her arms around his neck and exclaimed, "Papa!" She modestly begged his pardon, when she discovered her mistake, and disappeared in the crowd.

Later Mr. Ryan missed a $125 diamond stud from his shirt front, and immediately reported the loss to the police, with a description of the girl.

WHO OWNS THE PRESS

That Was Sold to the Messrs. Kapp at Warrensburg, Mo.?

In the circuit court at Jefferson City, Saturday, in the case of Al Smith vs. the Republican Printing Co., a motion for a change of venue was filed.

This case is a claim made by Thos. K. Niedringhaus for a $3,000 Dispatch press that G. A. Smith levied on and sold for a judgment he had against the Republican Printing Co., and which press Mr. Niedringhaus claims was his individual property and not the property of the Republican Printing Co.

Mr. Smith some time ago sold the press to Kapp Bros. at Warrensburg for about $600.

A BAPTIST ELDER

Restored to Health by Vinol

"I was run down and weak from indigestion and general debility, also suffered from vertigo. I saw a cod liver preparation called Vinol advertised and decided to give it a trial, and the results were most gratifying. After taking two bottles I regained my strength and am now feeling unusually well." —Henry Cunningham, Elder Baptist Church, Kingston, N. C.

Vinol is not a patent medicine—but a preparation composed of the medicinal elements of cod's livers, combined with a tonic iron and wine. Vinol creates a hearty appetite, tones up the organs of digestion and makes rich, red blood. In this natural manner, Vinol creates strength for the run-down, over-worked and debilitated, and for delicate children and old people. For chronic coughs, colds and bronchitis Vinol is unequalled.

All such persons in this vicinity are asked to try Vinol on our offer to refund their money if it fails to give satisfaction.

CORN SHOW OF ILLINOIS

IT WAS OPENED IN THE STATE ARMORY IN CAPITAL CITY TODAY.

BE AN ANNUAL AFFAIR HEREAFTER

The University of Illinois has installed a fine educational exhibit—How Corn Is Used as Food.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 23.—One of the greatest expositions of corn and its 107 bi-products ever seen in the United States was opened today in the state armory and will extend through the week.

Fifty thousand feet of floor space in the armory has been utilized to the full by the exhibitors, and an additional temporary building is required to house all the displays.

Corn is the greatest agricultural product of Illinois and the state corn show, which will hereafter be an annual affair, promises to be of great value to the farmers of the state in educating them to scientific methods of corn cultivation.

The University of Illinois has installed a fine educational exhibit, showing how corn is bred to produce the maximum of its valuable food properties. All the big manufacturers of corn products and machinery for planting and harvesting corn are represented at the exposition.

The corn keeper shows the many ways corn is used as food, and there will be a course of lectures by men high up in the agricultural world on the scientific breeding of corn and the cultivation of our soil.

A special section has been set apart where are displayed the hundreds of merchandise premiums which are offered in addition to the cash prizes, which aggregate several thousand dollars.

If you suffer from constipation and liver trouble Foley's Orino Laxative will cure you permanently by stimulating the digestive organs so they will act naturally. NEW ENGLISH MAGAZINE

IN WILL BE PUBLISHED IN LONDON AND WILL BE ALONG AMERICAN LINES.

BE PLACED ON SALE WEDNESDAY

The Periodical Will Be Known as "The English Review"—Ford Madox Hueffer Will Be the "Whole Show."

London, Nov. 23.—A new magazine along American lines will make its first appearance in London this week, the announcement stating that the initial number will be placed on sale on Wednesday.

Sensational advertising methods have been used by the promoter in creating curiosity in regard to the publication and all literary London is excited about it.

The periodical will be known as "The English Review," but it is asserted that it will be very different from the sort of "Review" to which the English reading public has become accustomed.

Dire prophecies have been made by the wiseacres as to the probable fate of the venture. It is declared that American newspaper methods, when tried in London, have invariably failed, and that American ideas in other forms of publishing can hardly be more successful.

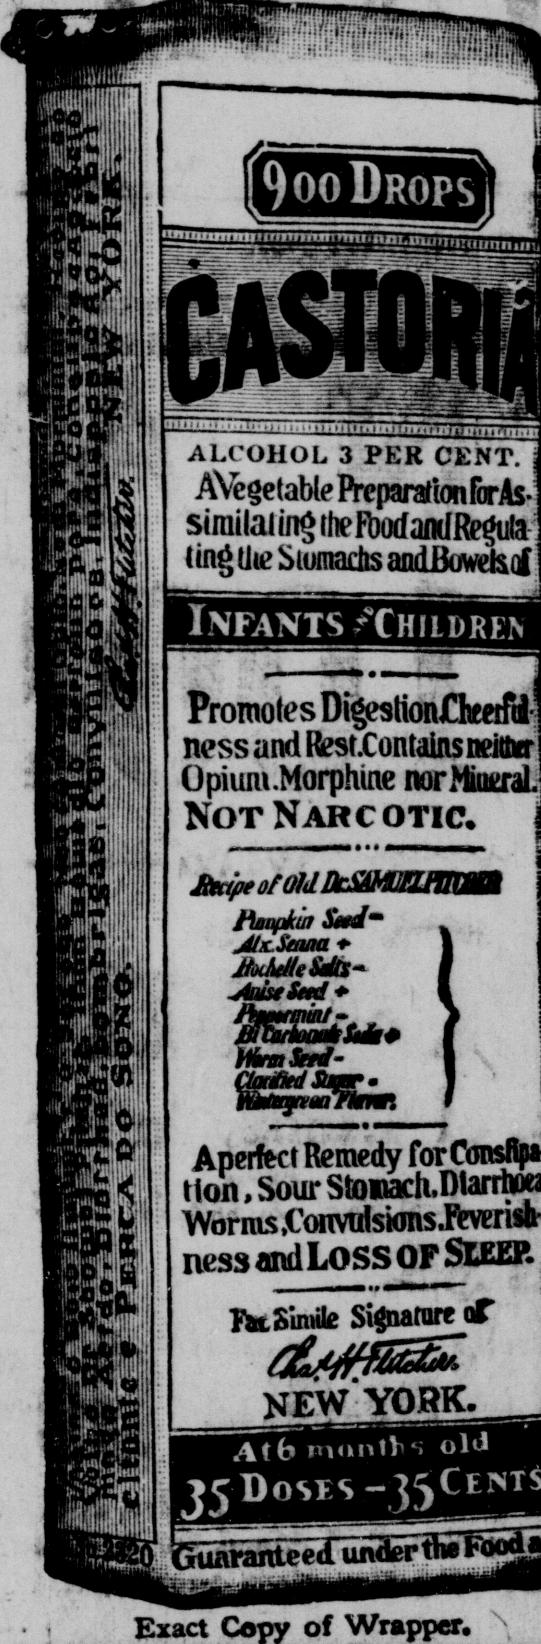

Contributions by George Meredith, Thomas Hardy, Rudyard Kipling, Henry James, H. G. Wells, G. K. Chesterton, Anatole France, Cunningham Grahame and an astonishing galaxy of other literary stars have been announced, and it is said that some of the later numbers are to contain articles by personages so high up that no editor hitherto has dreamed of trying to bag them.

In regard to the management of the new magazine, it is stated that Ford Madox Hueffer, novelist, philosopher, essayist, critic, poet, musician, painter, and what not, is the whole show. The idea is his, and he is sole editor. He is fairly bubbling with striking plans for his venture, the most startling of them being that he firmly refuses to make any money out of it, although he doesn't want to lose any either.

Another of his ideas is that serial fiction in short installments isn't of a particle of use to any magazine and in consequence his first number is to contain no less than 30,000 words of a new novel by H. G. Wells. Although the novel is abnormally long, it will be completed serially in four or five numbers, in time for publication in England and America in book form in the early spring.

The most comprehensive line of Christmas goods will be on display at West's the 27th and 28th of this month.

Every day a bargain day at The Globe Clothing and Shoe store. 105-107 West Main street.

Horace Vose, of Westerly, Rhode Island, to Provide It.

Washington, Nov. 23.—As usual, Horace Vose, of Westerly, R. I., will provide the turkey which will grace the dinner table at the White House next Thursday.

Mr. Vose has provided the Thanksgiving turkey for every president from Grant to Roosevelt, and for a chief executive to serve turkey not presented by the Rhode Island man would be a violation of precedent too ridiculous to contemplate.

Mr. Vose has informed the president that this year's turkey will be the best yet, and the presidential mouth is already watering in anticipation of the coming feast.

STEEL MILLS TO RE-OPEN

South Chicago Furnaces to Be in Full Blast by December 1.

Chicago, Nov. 23.—Official announcement is made that work will be resumed at once at the mills of the Illinois Steel company at South Chicago, the majority of which have been idle for more than a year.

It was said that 6,000 men will be hired immediately to prepare one of the big open hearth mills for resumption of work and that by December 1 the mills will be running in full force, giving employment to at least 12,000 men.

Sufficient orders for steel rails had been received, it was intimated, to allow the entire plant to run indefinitely.

How a Cat Caught Two Rats.

I once had a cat who did a rather remarkable rating feat. He stalked two young rats on the eaves of a low flat stable roof, and caught one in the usual way. The other jumped on to an elderberry tree just below. Bob, however, not satisfied with one, grasped it firmly in his mouth, and then jumped headlong for the other. Either he was very lucky or extraordinarily agile, for he fell to the ground with one rat still in his mouth and the other in his paws, and promptly killed them both.—Scotsman.

A well-known doctor upon reaching home after a two days' absence noticed that his slate was perfectly clean, whereupon he asked the servant girl, "Has nobody called during my two days' absence? I left this slate out for callers to write their names on, and it is perfectly clean."

"Oh, yes, sir," replied the servant, cheerfully. "A lot of folk has come. An' the slate got so full o' names that only this morning I had to rub them off to make room for more."

Twelve millions will run fifty years and the balance for ten years. It is believed that the sale will be successful and the money realized will go far toward relieving the present cramped condition of the city's finances.

Sympathy is Wasted.

Miss Violet Hawk, the novelist, says that people spend their time not in enjoying the red-haired girl, but in explaining her, and that this must be stopped. MOTORISTS IN GEORGIA

THE CITY OF SAVANNAH IS TO BE THE MECCA DURING PRESENT WEEK.

GRAND PRIZE WILL BE A GOLD CUP

The Fine Track Has Been Put Into Perfect Shape for Contest, Being Well Oiled and Perfectly Free From Dust.

Savannah, Ga., Nov. 23.—Savannah will be the Mecca this week of one of the largest crowds ever gathered in America to witness an automobile race, and already the city is entertaining many distinguished motorists who are here to take part in or witness the big events of the week. The reception committee has completed its plans for caring for the visitors, and the large crowds expected will be systematically cared for.

While the grand prize gold cup race on Thursday, Thanksgiving day, in which some of the best cars of all motor-mad countries will be seen, is the great attraction, the advance guard of motorists is manifesting much interest in Wednesday's preliminary event, the international race for light cars.

The fine track has been put into perfect shape for the contest of speed. The course is well oiled and free from dust, and wherever possible the corners rounded into broad, easy turns, with proper banking; the few sharp turns are substantial in cement and gravel and well banked; the long, broad straightaways as smooth as a billiard table; a magnificent grandstand; a mile of parking course for automobiles; a large and commodious stand for the gentlemen of the press, and one for the judges; huge blackboards in front of the grandstand and parking place, simultaneously reporting, through a perfect telephone system, the position of each car on the course and the time made, and a police system consisting of national guard and policemen, perfectly protecting the course, are some of the arrangements made for the great race meet.

The grand prize race in this country will correspond to the grand prix in France. The prize will be a magnificent gold cup costing $5,000, awarded to the winner by the Automobile Club of America, and will be contested for by practically all the great racing cars of Europe and America. The magnificent course over which this race will be run is 26.73 miles long. The grand prize race will be fifteen laps, or 400.85 miles, and it is confidently expected that all previous road records for the approximate distance will be lowered.

Historically speaking, Savannah is full of interest. The stranger who visits her finds a flavor of old times mingled with progressiveness. It was the port from which the first steamship sailed to make a foreign harbor; it was off Savannah that occurred the first naval engagement of the Revolutionary war, when a ship load of powder was captured from the British and forwarded to illuminate the struggle of Bunker Hill. It is still the repository of the cannon captured at Yorktown, and turned over by the first president to the Catham artillery; her beautiful public squares bear the historic names of Madison and Monterey, and her cenotaphs recall the memory of Nathaniel Green and W. Casimir Pulaski; the home of the first cotton gin perfected by Eli Whitney, the New England overseer, is near by; so is the scene of the first Sunday school in America, organized by the great Whitfield, who came over with Oglethorpe; it was the field of the long siege by the British and the long exile of the American patriots; it was the center of the first colony established by British philanthropists and defended by British valor against the Spaniards and the Indians, and it is the resting place of Tomochichi, the ally of Oglethorpe, the friend of the whiteman, "the first gentleman of Georgia."

Today stone steps mark the spot where the first ship load of settlers debarked from their vessel and spent the night under the Georgia pines,

while bronze tablets mark the place where Wesley lifted his voice in gratitude upon the planting of the colonies, and where the first liberty pole was raised as a signal of protest against British tyranny.

FED MONEY TO HIS HORSE

Oats More Palatable Than Master's $1,300 Given Him.

Waterbury, Conn., Nov. 23.—Robert McCormack, a coal dealer, sold a house for $1,300, all in bills. He decided the money would be safer in the barn than in the house, so put the roll of bills in a sack of feed. In the morning he fed his horse out of the same sack.

At breakfast McCormack was telling his family about selling the property, when Mrs McCormack suddenly asked him:

"What did you do with the money?"

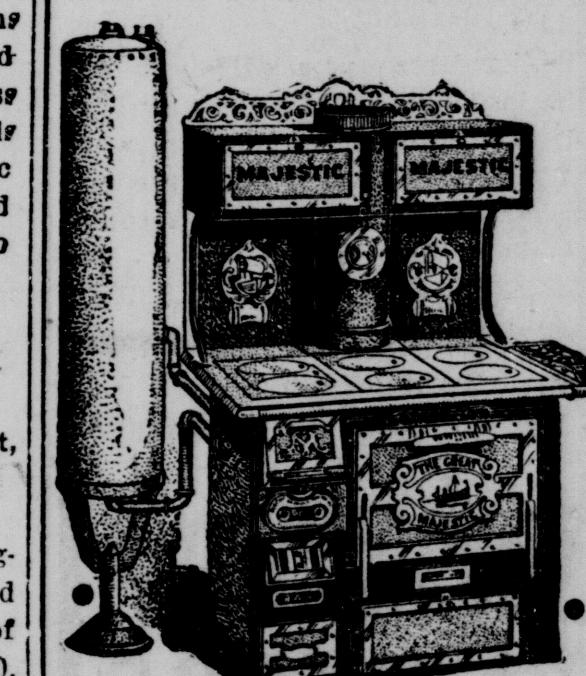

That started him for the barn at a quickstep, where he found he had given the $1,300 roll to a horse for breakfast and the intelligent animal had tried to eat it, but finding it lacking in flavor had nosed it along the manger while cleaning up his food. The money was intact.
